Movement of Market Toward Recovery of Decline.

NET GAINS IN LEADING STOCKS

Cotton Options Rise Sharply, Particularly Those for May Delivery. Wheat Market Also Advances. London Money Rate Aids New York Markef Situation.

New York, April 29.-The entire general novement of the security market to-day was toward a recovery from yesterday's violent decline. The rise was not conducted with the rushing speed of yesterday's fall. Indeed, at times during he day, the market seemed dull, and ne day, the market bridge off in a way kness city South com... hat momentarily indicated that the buy-kansas city South, pfd... The wheat market also advanced, partly by reason of the retirement of short contracts and partly because of the receipt of unfavorable crop stories from Am. Woolen om... Am. Woolen pfd... The day's stock market was undoubtedly helped by considerable buying for the account of London, which, along with the elevation of the money rate, led to further veakness in sterling exchange. Speculative Wall street did not pay any parome a law, and the collection of a great im of money now held up in English nternal taxes was, therefore, near at and. In banking circles, however, the w taken was that it would be found hat the financial preparations leading up hat the money market had in effect ssed through whatever stress might be orable elements in existing conditions ng at the moment in excess of 15 per nt upon its total volume of capitalizaon as recently enlarged.

the session, when reports of high temperatures and generally dry weather made their appearance. A general buying movement started by commission houses and shorts and a sharp advance of 1% took place. The reports from Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, and Illinois covered conditions of drought, Hessian fly, chinch bugs, and high temperature, and entirely outweighed the bearish influences of European news. Local car lots, 8, with 14 estimated for to-morrow.

Corn was heavy throughout the session, considering the strength in wheat. May corn was again in sample supply and the speculative buying by professionals and shorts was not of enough force to offset the pressure of May selling. The discount under July widened to 35cc. Cash prices 1/20 higher to 1/20 lower. Local car lots, 28, with 44 estimated for to-morrow.

Bank the Difference

Your living expenses ought to be cheaper in summer than in the winter. Put what you save on coal and light bills in a Savings Account and let it earn money for you. It's nonsense to say that you can't do-it. You manage to get along in the winter time with those extra expenses, and you can get along just as well in the summer time without using that money.

We pay 3% Interest on Savings Accounts.
